Battalion Chief Rick Morrison Retires

WARRENSBURG, MO – Johnson County Fire Protection District Battalion Chief Rick Morrison retired today after 40 years of service to the District. As Battalion Chief, Morrison oversaw operations in the District's extreme northwest portion of the District which included Stations 7 (Columbus) and 8 (Fayetteville).

"40 years is a long time to serve in one organization," said Fire Chief Larry Jennings. "Chief Morrison was with the District during the majority of its infancy and was always on hand to assist in getting us to where we're at today. His dedication to the District and the citizens we serve was outstanding and his presence around the District will be missed."

Chief Morrison began his service with the District on March 1, 1982 and served out of Station 5 (Centerview) before later moving to Station 7. He spent many years as the Captain at Station 7 before being promoted to Battalion Chief June 1, 2012 where he remained until his retirement.
